(9) For the purposes of this section, the surviving parent, if any, of a child, except where the child is living apart from the parent, shall be deemed, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, to be the person having custody, care and control.

(10) Where a widow, widower, child or beneficiary of a deceased member cannot be found, and the executive director is satisfied that reasonable efforts have been made to find the widow, widower, child or beneficiary and at least one year has passed since the member's death, the Board may, notwithstanding any other provision of this Regulation, direct that any benefit that would be payable under this Regulation if the widow, widower, child or beneficiary had predeceased the member be paid to the person who would be entitled to receive the benefit in those circumstances, on such conditions as the Board directs.

(11) Where a widow, widower, child or beneficiary referred to in subsection (10) is subsequently found and a claim is made for any benefit payable under this Regulation, the Board may direct that the benefit, reduced by the amount actually paid under subsection (10), be paid to the widow, widower, child or beneficiary, as the case may be.

(b) the election is received in the offices of the Board, if written notice of the election is received no later than six months after he or she ceases to be an employee or councillor.

(5) The annual amount of early retirement pension payable to a member under this section shall be the annual amount of pension calculated in the manner prescribed in section 12 if, at the date of the early retirement, the age of the member counted in completed years and months plus the credited service and eligible service of the member counted in completed years and months equal,

(8) For the purposes of subsection (7), a member's age shall be calculated as at the last day of the month immediately preceding the commencement date of the member's early retirement pension.

(9) Where a member becomes entitled to receive a deferred pension under section 15 and subsequently elects to receive an early retirement pension within the ten year period before his or her normal retirement age, his or her pension shall be calculated in accordance with subsection (5) or (7), whichever is applicable.

(10) For the purposes of determining completed years and months of credited service and eligible service under subsection (5) and (7), a member employed on other than a continuous full-time basis shall be considered as employed on a continuous full-time basis. O. Reg. 92/87, s. 6.

7. Subsection 18 (3) of the said Regulation is revoked and the following substituted therefor:

(a) the contribution is refunded; or

(b) a pension has become payable, whichever is the earlier month. O. Reg. 92/87, s. 7.

8. The said Regulation is amended by adding thereto the following section:

18a.—(1) Where a member ceases to be an employee of the employer, receives a refund of contributions plus interest from the Fund, commences a grievance or other legal proceeding for wrongful dismissal and, as a result of the grievance or other legal proceeding, is reinstated as an employee of the employer, the member may elect to pay the amount of the refund received together with interest thereon at a rate set by the Board on the advice of its actuary and thereby re-establish credited service for the period of time to which the refund is applicable and the member shall recommence contributing to the Fund from the time of reinstatement as an employee in accordance with subsection 9 (1).

(2) Where a member ceases to be an employee of the employer and applies for a refund of contribution with interest from the Fund and the executive director is aware that the employee has commenced or will be commencing a grievance or other legal proceeding for wrongful dismissal, the executive director shall delay the payment of the refund until a decision has been made with respect to such grievance or other legal proceeding as to whether the employee will be reinstated or not. (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where an order is made under section 95 of the Act, the proportion shall not exceed 10 per cent of the total amount of excess rent found owing by the landlord to the tenant pursuant to the order. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 4.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

5. For the purposes of clauses 75 (a) and 87 (1) (a) of the Act, the prescribed operating cost allowance is 3 per cent of the gross potential rent. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 5.

6.—(1) For the purposes of subsection 76 (2) of the Act, a capital expenditure is of a continuing nature if,

(a) it is a single capital expenditure completed in stages or it is conducted on a project basis that,

(i) makes related improvements within a specific room or area,

- (ii) replaces similar objects or systems, or
- (iii) is associated in function or purpose with a previously allowed capital expenditure; and

(b) the Minister finds that the capital expenditure set out in clause (a) will be completed within a maximum of thirty-six months after its commencement.

(2) If on a subsequent application a landlord demonstrates that,

- (a) clauses (1) (a) and (b) apply; or
- (b) clause (1) (b) does not apply but the completion of the capital expenditure was delayed, for reasons beyond the landlord's control, beyond thirty-six months after commencement of the capital expenditure claimed, the Minister may find that the capital expenditure is continuing. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 6.

7.—(1) For the purposes of calculating the amount of a capital expenditure which a landlord has experienced or will experience, an annual allowance for the capital expenditure consists of,

- (a) the purchase price, installation cost or construction costs of the capital expenditure net of any proceeds received from or as a result of insurance;
- (b) an allowance for management and administration;
- (c) the value of the landlord's own labour;
- (d) the rental value of any vacant rental unit if the vacancy is directly related to the capital expenditure, unless otherwise recognized; and
- (e) interest on the total of clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) including, where the capital expenditure is financed by borrowing, the value of any guarantees given by or on behalf of the landlord to the lender, amortized over the anticipated useful life of the expenditure in the form of a blended equal annual payment of principal and interest.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), if the landlord obtains funds for a capital expenditure to rehabilitate a residential complex under the Low Rise Rehabilitation Program, the High Rise Rehabilitation Project, the Conserve-a-Unit research project, the Ontario Home Renewal Program or the Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program, any payments made by the landlord during the period under review under the programs together with the rental value of any vacant rental unit if the vacancy is directly related to the capital expenditure, with interest as provided in section 1 amortized over the anticipated useful life of the capital expenditure, shall be allowed instead of the annual allowance, except that,

- (a) any payments required under the program as a result of,
 - (i) the premises ceasing to be a residential complex,
 - (ii) the residential complex being sold,
 - (iii) the landlord failing to demonstrate efforts to prevent tenant disruption during the rehabilitation process, or
 - (iv) a provision in the program resulting in early or accelerated repayment in whole or in part,

shall not be allowed as part of the capital expenditure;

- (b) if the total cost of a capital expenditure exceeds the funds obtained from a program, the excess shall be subject to the provisions for capital expenditures as otherwise set out in the Act and this Regulation but the management and administration allowance shall be calculated on the total cost of the capital expenditure; and
- (c) any funds that the landlord receives as a grant or a forgivable loan under which repayment is made shall not be allowed as part of the capital expenditure. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 7.

8.—(1) For the purposes of section 7, the anticipated useful life for new equipment and materials used in residential complexes is set out in Tables 1 and 2.

(2) If the capital expenditures under review are set out in Table 1 or 2, the Minister shall consider the nature of the expenditure with reference to characteristics in common with the equipment and materials set out in Tables 1 and 2 and factors which are reasonable in the marketplace.

(3) If the equipment and materials are not new the Minister shall determine the remaining useful life of the capital expenditure claimed by taking into account its age and the anticipated useful life as determined under subsections (1) and (2) and the remaining anticipated useful life of the item. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 8.

9.—(1) The allowances for management and administration with respect to capital expenditure, excluding capital expenditures experienced during the initial rent-up period, are set out in this section.

(2) If construction or renovation is performed by persons who are not directly employed by the landlord and who are subject to the supervision of the landlord ing the construction or renovation project, an allowance of 7.5 per cent of the construction or renovation costs shall be allowed.

(3) If construction or renovation is performed by persons in the direct employ of the landlord, an administration allowance shall be allowed of 7.5 per cent of the direct labour and material costs and a management allowance shall be allowed of 7.5 per cent of the total of the direct labour and material costs and the administration allowance unless the allowances have otherwise been recognized in determining a rent increase.

(4) In respect of the purchase and installation of appliances, carpeting, furnishings and other similar items, a management allowance of 2 per cent of the total cost of purchase and installation shall be allowed if it is determined that there was management effort on the part of the landlord or a person employed by the landlord in the negotiation of improved terms of purchase or on the supervision of the installation. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 9.

10.—(1) Where the labour involved in carrying out a capital expenditure is provided by the landlord, the Minister shall allow the value of the work done on the basis of an amount that is reasonable in the market place.

(2) For the purposes of making a determination under subsection (1), the portion of the cost of the capital expenditure represented by the landlord's own labour shall not be the subject of an allowance for management and administration. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 9.

11.—(1) For the purposes of clause 78 (1) (a) of the Act and subsection 7 (1), the rates of interest to be allowed are set out in this section.

(2) If the capital expenditure has been financed wholly by borrowing, the interest rate allowed is the rate experienced unless the rate experienced unreasonably exceeds the rate for similar market transactions.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), if the interest rate experienced was discounted as a result of guarantees given by or on behalf of the landlord to the lender, the discount shall be added to the interest rate and shall be used in the calculation of the annual allowance in the manner set out in clause 7 (1) (e).

(4) If the capital expenditure has been financed wholly out of the landlord's own funds, the interest rate allowed shall be the average mortgage interest rate of five-year conventional first mortgages as published monthly by Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation for the second month prior to the effective date of the first rent increase applied for plus,

(a) one percentage point of interest if there is existing financing related to the acquisition or construction of the residential complex equal to more than 30 per cent but less than

60 per cent of the acquisition costs or value of the residential complex as determined under section 42; or

(b) two percentage points of interest if there is existing financing related to the acquisition or construction of the residential complex which is 60 per cent or more of the acquisition costs or value of the residential complex as determined under section 42.

(5) If the capital expenditure has been financed in part by borrowed funds and in part by the landlord's own funds, the interest allowed on the borrowed funds shall be as set out in subsections (2) and (3) and the interest allowed for the landlord's own funds shall be as set out in subsection (4). O. Reg. 93/87, s. 11.

12.—(1) For the purposes of an application under section 74 or 86 of the Act, an annual allowance shall be made for capital expenditures which have been or will be substantially completed within a period of twelve consecutive months that overlaps at least one month with the base year period and the projected year period.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), if a landlord makes an application for an intended rent increase to be effective on or before the 1st day of August, 1987, an annual allowance shall be made for capital expenditures that have been or will be substantially completed during the base year period and the projected year period.

(3) In this section, "substantially completed" means the degree of completion such that the landlord would be liable for the total cost of completion of the project or the point where the project would reasonably be considered to be complete despite further work to be completed. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 12.

13.—(1) For the purposes of clause 75 (c) of the Act, "actual capital expenditure" means the annual allowance as determined under section 7 for a capital expenditure that has been actually completed.

(2) If the Minister finds on a subsequent application that the annual allowance for an actual capital expenditure varies from the annual allowance for the projected expenditure allowed on a previous order made under this Act or the Residential Tenancies Act, the Minister shall add to or deduct from the rent increase otherwise determined, as the case may be, the amount of the variance. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 13.

14.—(1) For the purposes of subsection 78 (2) of the Act, if an item allowed on the current application is specifically identified as an item allowed in a previous order, the item previously allowed has been replaced.

(2) If subsection (1) does not apply, where an item previously allowed was installed in a specific unit and a similar item allowed on the current application was installed in the same unit, the item is deemed to be replaced unless otherwise established.

(3) If subsections (1) and (2) do not apply, an item has been replaced if the item allowed on the current application is composed of a number of articles and the number of articles together with a number of similar articles completed on or after the 1st day of August, 1985 and allowed in a previous order exceeds the number of similar articles in use in the residential complex at the time the application is made.

(4) If subsection (3) applies, the number of articles being replaced shall be determined by subtracting the number of similar articles in use in the residential complex at the time the application is made from the total of the number of similar articles allowed on the current application and the number of similar articles completed on or after the 1st day of August, 1985 and allowed in a previous order.

(5) Where an item is found to be replaced under subsection (3), the amount allowed in the previous order in respect of the articles that were replaced shall be determined on the basis that those articles allowed first are replaced first.

(6) If an item that is proposed to be replaced was allowed as part of a capital expenditure allowance by amortizing the principal and interest factors over an average period that differs from the anticipated useful life of the individual item set out in Tables 1 and 2, the item shall be deemed to be replaced when the anticipated useful life has been completed. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 14.

15. For the purposes of section 96 of the Act,

"ongoing deliberate neglect" in maintaining the residential complex or any rental unit means that the landlord was aware of the relevant maintenance conditions and failed to take corrective measures within a reasonable length of time and as a result the capital expenditure or proposed capital expenditure was necessary, but that failure does not include matters that are beyond the landlord's control; and

"substantial" means that the total of the annual allowances for capital expenditures that have been found to be necessary as a result of the landlord's ongoing deliberate neglect equals 1 per cent or more of the gross potential rent of the rental units affected. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 15.

16.—(1) If capital expenditures have been or will be incurred within twelve months of the acquisition of the residential complex and if there was an obvious need for the capital expenditures which a prudent purchaser would have taken into consideration in negotiating the purchase price, the cost of the capital expenditure shall be considered as part of the acquisition costs unless it has been experienced during the initial rent-up period in which case subsection 42 (6) applies.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), if capital expenditures have been or will be incurred within twelve months of the acquisition of the residential complex, and the capital expenditures represent work that exceeds the level of work required to bring the premises to a level where any municipal or other work order or deficiency notices, or orders made by the Residential Rental Standards Board or by the Minister under this Act regarding completion of work are satisfied, an annual allowance for the excess shall be determined under section 7 and included in the rent increase otherwise justified. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 16.

17. For the purposes of subsection 89 (2) of the Act,

"actual expenditure" means the annual allowance determined under section 7 for a capital expenditure that has been actually completed;

"substantially higher or lower" means that the difference between the annual allowance determined under section 7 for the proposed capital expenditure and for the actual capital expenditure results in an increase or decrease of at least $2 per month in the rent increase for each rental unit affected by the application. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 17.

18.—(1) For the purposes of section 99 of the Act, a rental unit that is "rented for the first time" includes,

(a) a new rental unit that has been formerly occupied, at least in part, by adding to the floor area of the residential complex and the amount of the additional floor area exceeds 50 per cent of the total of,

(i) the floor area of the addition, and

(ii) that portion of the floor area of the existing unit that is not part of the addition;

(b) a new rental unit that results from renovations to the residential complex, provided that at least 50 per cent of its floor area is a new part of the floor area of the residential complex that has never been occupied as a rental unit and provided that the landlord,

(i) files a statement with the Minister that the renovated space has not previously been used by any tenant within the previous twelve months,

(ii) gives the tenants a copy of the statement within ten days and advises the tenants that they may file a submission within thirty days from the filing of the statement, and

(iii) files proof of the giving of the statement with the Minister.

(2) Notwithstanding clause (1) (b), where the portion of the new unit that was part of the residential complex was previously a common area in the residential complex used by any tenant within the previous twelve months, the unit shall not be considered as rented for the first time unless,

(a) the landlord has obtained and filed with the Minister the written consent from the tenants of more than 50 per cent of the rental units in the residential complex approving the renovation of the space; and

(b) the landlord undertakes that any compensation for the loss of the common area agreed to shall be divided equally among the tenants of each rental unit in the residential complex.

(3) The landlord may apply to the Minister for an order under clause 13 (3) (d) of the Act determining that a unit has been rented for the first time within the meaning of section 99 of the Act and declaring the maximum rent and the date the maximum rent takes effect.

(4) If section 99 of the Act does not apply, on an application by the landlord, the Minister, in determining the maximum rent for the renovated unit under section 74, 86 or 89 of the Act to which any justified increase might be applied shall, if the renovations result in a change in the number of rental units or a change in the size of one or more rental units in the residential complex, apportion the total maximum rent of the previous rental units among the resulting units on the basis of floor area and shall make further proportional adjustments for any loss of rental space and common areas.

(5) If section 99 of the Act does not apply, on an application by a landlord under section 74, 86 or 89 of the Act, the Minister, in determining the rent increase justified on the application,

(a) shall consider the cost of the renovations for the total floor area affected in the same manner as capital expenditures in section 7; and

(b) may consider the increased operating costs of the total floor area, if any, as extraordinary operating costs. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 18.

9.—(1) Where subsection 97 (4) of the Act does not apply and the landlord has made an application under section 74, 86 or 89 of the Act, if the landlord constructs additional parking spaces where there are existing parking spaces in that class, the cost of the additional spaces shall be determined as a capital expenditure and the annual allowance shall be apportioned among all parking spaces of that class by adding the annual allowance to the total maximum separate charges for the existing spaces and dividing the resulting total equally among all of the parking spaces of that class.

(2) If the landlord constructs parking spaces and there are no existing parking spaces in that class, the cost of the new parking spaces shall be determined as a capital expenditure and the annual allowance shall be apportioned among all parking spaces of that class. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 19.

MAXIMUM RENT

20.—(1) For the purposes of section 99 of the Act, where the rent first charged for a rental unit when the unit is rented for the first time on or after the 1st day of August, 1985 is less than the amount of rent stated to be chargeable in a written tenancy agreement entered into at the same time, the maximum rent shall be the amount of rent stated in the agreement if,

(a) the rental unit is rented for the first time on or after the 1st day of August, 1985 and before the 1st day of February, 1987; or

(b) the rental unit is rented for the first time on or after the 1st day of February, 1987 and no discount, benefit in the nature of a discount or reduced rent paid or allowed to the tenant,

(i) respecting incompleteness of construction of the residential complex or temporary failure to provide promised services or facilities, extends beyond the six-month period commencing upon the date that any rental unit in the residential complex was first occupied, or

(ii) respecting marketing of the first rental unit in the residential complex, exceeds the value of two months rent as averaged over the term of the tenancy agreement.

(2) Where subclause (1) (b) (ii) applies, the discount, benefit in the nature of a discount or reduced rent must be paid or allowed to the tenant over a period of time that does not exceed a total of six months, which six months need not be consecutive.

(3) If subsections (1) and (2) do not apply and the rent charged for a rental unit rented for the first time on or after the 1st day of August, 1985 is decreased within the following twelve months from the date the unit is first rented, the maximum rent shall be the total rent charged for the twelve months divided by the number of rental periods during the twelve months in which rent was payable.

(4) Notwithstanding subsection (3), if the term of the tenancy agreement is longer than twelve months and the rent charged for a rental unit rented for the first time on or after the 1st day of August, 1985 is decreased at any time during the term, the maximum rent shall be the total rent charged during the term of the tenancy agreement divided by the number of rental periods in the term.

(5) Subsections (3) and (4) do not apply where an order of the Residential Tenancy Commission, the Board, the Minister or a court provides otherwise. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 20.

FINANCING COSTS

21.—(1) If the landlord obtains funds through new financing or assumes or refinances existing financing resulting from the landlord's purchase of the residential complex, the principal amount of the financing that shall be recognized shall not exceed,

- (a) if clause (b) does not apply, 85 per cent of the landlord's acquisition costs; or
- (b) if the purchase is a Limited Dividend Housing project under the National Housing Act (Canada), the principal of the financing provided for in the agreement between the landlord and Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, but that amount may not exceed the landlord's acquisition costs.

(2) If the landlord obtains funds through new financing or assumes or refinances existing financing resulting from the construction of the residential complex, the actual principal amount of the financing experienced by the landlord shall be recognized up to the value of the residential complex as determined under section 42.

(3) If partial ownership, right, title or interest in the residential complex is purchased and the purchaser obtains funds through new financing or assumes or refinances existing financing, the principal amount of the financing that shall be recognized in relation to the purchase shall not exceed 85 per cent of the acquisition costs experienced by the purchaser of the partial ownership, right, title or interest in the residential complex.

(4) Notwithstanding subsections (1), (2) and (3) in respect of a residential complex no part of which was occupied as a rental unit before the 1st day of January, 1976, the principal amount of financing, if any, modified by any changes in principal experienced by the landlord up to the 1st day of August, 1985 shall be recognized, provided that any increases or decreases in debt outstanding respecting that financing before the 1st day of August, 1985 shall result in a corresponding reduction or increase of the landlord's initial invested equity. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 21.

22. In determining financing costs, the rate of interest recognized shall be the actual rate of interest, unless it can be established that the rate charged unreasonably exceeds the rate for similar market transactions, except,

- (a) if financing is provided by the vendor and the rate of interest charged on that financing is less than the rate of interest available for financing from financial institutions for a borrower in similar circumstances and for financing with similar priority of repayment, the Minister shall,
 - (i) deem the rate of interest to be the market rate of interest available from financial institutions,

- (ii) deem the principal amount of the financing to be less than the actual principal by an amount that is equivalent to the present value of the savings in interest over the term of the actual financing that results from the difference in the rates of interest, and

- (iii) recalculate the financing costs in the manner set out in this Regulation;

- (b) if clause (a) applies and no part of the residential complex was occupied as a rental unit before the 1st day of January, 1976, the amount that is equivalent to the present value of the savings in interest over the term of the actual financing that results from the difference in the rates of interest shall be deducted from the acquisition costs;

- (c) if financing provided by the vendor provides for rates of interest that increase during the term of the financing, the Minister shall recognize one rate of interest to apply to the entire term of the financing equal to the average of the rates of interest that have been experienced or will be experienced over the term. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 22.

23. The financing costs shall be calculated on the basis of equal blended payments of principal and interest for an annual accounting period notwithstanding that the actual financing payments may be calculated differently, except,

- (a) if financing or refinancing is obtained under a graduated payment mortgage,

- (i) resulting from a purchase of a residential complex on or after the 1st day of August, 1985, the actual payments shall be recognized provided that the annual increase in payments shall not exceed 5 per cent of the amount recognized for the previous annual period, or

- (ii) resulting from the construction of a residential complex or from a purchase prior to the 1st day of August, 1985, the actual payments shall be recognized; or

- (b) if the funds are obtained under the Assisted Rental Program,

- (i) the actual payments that the landlord has experienced or will experience in each annual accounting period during the entire period of the program for any other financing in respect of the residential complex, net of the government loan advances, shall be recognized subject to the provisions for financing costs otherwise set out in this Regulation, and

- (ii) changes in advances of the government loan and changes in repayment of advances shall be allowed as changes in financing costs; or

- (c) if the funds are obtained from or guaranteed under the Canada Rental Supply Plan, Canada/Ontario Rental Supply Plan, Ontario Rental Construction Loan, Renter-prise, or Convert-to-Rent, the actual payments shall be recognized. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 23.

24.—(1) The method of calculating equal blended payments of principal and interest is set out in this section.

- (2) If the financing relates to a purchase or any refinancing thereof, interest and principal shall be amortized over the actual amortization period of the mortgage or a period of twenty-five years, whichever is greater, except,

- (a) if the anticipated physical or economic life of a residential complex or of a building in the residential complex that has separate financing is less than twenty-five years and financial institutions have provided or will provide funds only on the basis of an amortization period that is less than twenty-five years, the actual amortization period available from the financial institution shall be recognized;

- (b) if funds have been advanced or guaranteed by a government or government agency under a program mentioned in clause 23 (c) and the terms of the agreement provide for repayment of financing over a period of less than twenty-five years, the actual amortization period shall be recognized;

- (c) subject to clauses (a) and (b), if the landlord assumes financing at the time of purchase and the original amortization period of the financing was twenty-five years or longer and the balance of the amortization period was at least twenty-five years, the balance of the amortization period shall be recognized;

- (d) subject to clauses (a) and (b), if the landlord assumes financing at the time of purchase and the original amortization period of the financing was twenty-five years or longer and the balance of the amortization period is less than twenty-five years, the principal amount outstanding shall be amortized over twenty-five years, with interest at the rate of five-year conventional first mortgages, as reported by Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation for the second month prior to the effective date of the first rent increase applied for; or

- (e) subject to clauses (a) and (b), if the landlord assumes financing at the time of the purchase of the residential complex and the original amortization period of the financing was less than twenty-five years, the terms of the financing shall be recalculated by deeming the original amortization period to be twenty-five years and the deemed balance of the recalculated principal amount shall be amortized over twenty-five years with interest at the rate for five-year conventional first mortgages as reported by Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation for the second month prior to the effective date of the first rent increase applied for.

- (3) If the financing relates to construction of a residential complex or to a purchase mentioned in subsection 79 (6) of the Act or the refinancing thereof, interest and principal shall be amortized over the actual period of the financing or a period of twenty years, whichever is greater, except,

- (a) if the anticipated physical or economic life of a residential complex or a building in a residential complex that has separate financing is less than twenty years and financial institutions will provide or have provided funds only on the basis of an amortization period that is less than twenty years, the actual amortization period available from the financial institution shall be recognized; or

- (b) if funds have been advanced or guaranteed by a government or government agency under a program mentioned in clause 23 (c) and the terms of the agreement provide for repayment over a period of less than twenty years, the actual amortization period shall be recognized.

- (4) In determining the financing costs when there has been a change in the amortization period of financing related to a residential complex,

- (a) if there has not been a previous order that recognized the financing,

- (i) for a residential complex any part of which was occupied as a rental unit prior to the 1st day of January, 1976, the balance of the amortization period of the original financing or the financing in place on the 29th day of July, 1975, whichever is arranged later, shall be recognized, or

- (ii) for a residential complex no part of which was occupied as a rental unit prior to the 1st day of January, 1976, the balance of the amortization period of the original financing or the financing in place on the 1st day of August, 1985, whichever is arranged later, shall be recognized; or

- (b) if there has been a previous order under The Residential Premises Rent Review Act, 1975 (2nd Session), the Residential Tenancies Act or under the Act, the balance of the amortization period considered in the previous order shall be recognized.
- (5) Where there has been a change in the principal amount of financing related to the residential complex,
 - (a) if there is a previous order under The Residential Premises Rent Review Act, 1975 (2nd Session), the Residential Tenancies Act or the Act, the balance of the principal amount outstanding as a result of the principal amount and the pattern of amortization considered in the previous order shall be recognized; or
 - (b) if there has not been a previous order, the principal amount outstanding at the time the change occurs shall be amortized over the balance of the amortization period subject to subsections (2) and (3).
- (6) Where there has been a change in the frequency of repayment provisions or in any other provision that affects the frequency of repayment of financing related to the residential complex,

- (a) if there has been a previous order under The Residential Premises Rent Review Act, 1975 (2nd Session), the Residential Tenancies Act or the Act, the frequency of repayment considered under the previous order shall be recognized; or
 - (b) if there has not been a previous order, the provision for frequency of repayment set out in the previous financing shall be recognized.
- O. Reg. 93/87, s. 24.

25. For the purposes of determining financing costs no longer borne under clause 75 (h) of the Act, the difference between the previously allowed financing costs for the latest annual accounting period used in the previous order and the financing costs experienced by the landlord for a subsequent annual accounting period shall be calculated and the rent increase otherwise justified shall be adjusted by the calculated amount. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 25.

26. If the landlord has purchased and financed more than one residential complex or a residential complex and other assets in one transaction, for the purposes of determining acquisition costs and the allowable financing for each residential complex,

- (a) the value of each residential complex shall be determined on the basis of the appraised value at the time of the purchase;
- (b) the total of the appraised values for all residential complexes included in the transaction shall be compared with the total purchase price of the residential complexes and the same proportion of the comparative appraised values shall be applied to the total purchase price to determine the comparative value of each residential complex;

- (c) if the transaction includes the purchase of property and assets that are not part of the residential complex, the proportion of the appraised value of the residential complex shall be allowed;
- (d) the acquisition cost of each residential complex shall be determined on the basis of the proportional appraised value of the purchase price and the same proportional amount applied to the other components of acquisition costs; and
- (e) the financing obtained or assumed at the time of the purchase shall be apportioned among the various complexes and buildings within each complex so that the total financing within each residential complex shall be an equal percentage of the financing recognized but shall not exceed the financing allowed under section 21, unless it is more reasonable to allocate the value on a different basis. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 26.

27.—(1) If the landlord obtains financing in a long-term's length transaction, the actual financing costs may be allowed if,

- (a) the financing costs do not exceed the amount for similar market transactions; and
- (b) the financing agreement was entered into in good faith, but if clause (a) does not apply and clause (b) does apply, the Minister may substitute, in whole or in part, the financing costs which are comparable to similar market transactions.

(2) If a corporate landlord obtains funds through a shareholder's loan, the issuance of preferred shares or other corporate instrument, the Minister may consider the cost of these funds as financing costs if the agreement to obtain funds was made before the 4th day of December, 1986 and if the terms of repayment are the equivalent of a loan that is reasonable in the marketplace, namely,

- (a) that there is a repayment or redemption in full within a fixed time period and on the terms provided for in the terms of agreement;
- (b) that the redemption or repayments are actually made in accordance with the terms of the agreement; and
- (c) that interest or dividends are paid on terms that do not exceed terms that are reasonable in the marketplace. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 27.

INCREASED FINANCING PHASE IN

28.—(1) The rules that are applicable to the phasing of financing cost increases under clause 92 (1) (e) of the Act related to graduated payment mortgages and the Assisted Rental Program are set out in this section.

(2) If the Assisted Rental Program provides for a reduction of the government loan advances or the repayment of the government loan advances pursuant to a specified schedule, filed by the landlord in support of the application and recognized by the Minister for the purposes of this section,

(a) for the first year of the phase in, the annual financing phase in allowance shall be equal to the amount of the government loan advance reduction plus the amount of the increase in the repayment of the government loan advance pursuant to the schedule that occur in the projected year period compared with the base year period; and

(b) for each subsequent year phase in, the annual financing phase in allowance shall be equal to the amount of the government loan advance reduction plus the amount of the increase in the repayment of the government loan advance pursuant to the schedule that occur in the annual accounting period immediately subsequent to the annual accounting period used in the previous phase in allowance.

(3) If clause (2) (b) applies, the landlord shall file with the Minister at least 150 days prior to the next anniversary of the first date of the effective rent increase applied for or such later time as the Minister may allow, confirmation from the government lender of payment pursuant to the terms of the government loan advance and repayment schedule, as may be relevant to the phase in period.

(4) If the landlord fails to file within the period of time set out in subsection (3), the financing cost increase shall not be phased in in the subsequent year, and nothing in this section prevents the landlord from submitting another application under section 74 of the Act.

(5) A financing phase in allowance for a subsequent year shall not be made if the government loan advance repayment of the government loan advance under the Assisted Rental Program is varied, postponed or eliminated.

(6) If the allowed financing cost is pursuant to a graduated payment mortgage,

(a) the annual financing phase in allowance for the first and subsequent years shall be equal to the scheduled increase in the payment as allowed under clause 23 (a) for the projected year or subsequent annual accounting periods; and

(b) if the increase in payment is varied, postponed or eliminated, no further amount shall be allowed for a financing cost phase in. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 28.

FINANCIAL POSITION

29.—(1) If a landlord claims to have experienced a financial loss or an economic loss or where the landlord may be entitled to an allowance for relief of hardship and the landlord has complied with section 77 of the Act, the Minister shall determine the financial position of the residential complex.

(2) For the purposes of determining the financial position of the residential complex, the Minister shall deduct the operating costs and the financing costs from the revenue in respect of the residential complex. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 29.

30.—(1) If the landlord has owned the residential complex throughout the base year period, the determination under section 29 shall be made for the base year period.

(2) If the landlord has not owned the residential complex throughout the base year period, the determination under section 29 shall be made for the base year period using revenue and costs of the previous and subsequent landlords, but the findings for the financing costs shall be made only on the subsequent landlord's financing costs that would otherwise be allowed and that have been or will be experienced during the initial twelve-month period of ownership.

(3) If subsection (2) applies and the operating costs of the previous landlord are not available, the Minister shall not make the determination under section 29 unless the landlord provides proof of the actual operating costs for at least nine months of the base year period. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 30.

31.—(1) For the purposes of the determination under section 29, the revenue shall be calculated on the basis of the maximum rent chargeable for each rental unit during the base year period less actual vacancy loss which the landlord has experienced during the base year period not exceeding 2 per cent of the gross potential rent.

(2) If there has been a previous order under The Residential Premises Rent Review Act, 1975 (2nd Session), the Residential Tenancies Act or the Act in which there has been an annual allowance for capital expenditures, the revenue as determined in subsection (1) shall be reduced by the total of the landlord's previous annual allowances for capital expenditures as may be adjusted by subsection 78 (2) of the Act.

(3) The revenue determined under subsection (1) shall be adjusted by the variance determined under clause 75 (c) of the Act. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 31.

32. If the landlord elects under subsection 77 (2) of the Act not to submit proof of the operating costs that the landlord has experienced in respect of the residential complex for the base year period, the actual operating costs determined in the previous order shall be updated by,

(a) adding to the previously calculated operating costs for those annual accounting periods that commenced prior to the 1st day of January, 1987,

(i) 6 per cent of the previously calculated operating costs for each annual accounting period commencing prior to the 1st day of August, 1985, and

(ii) 4 per cent of the previously calculated operating costs for each annual accounting period commencing on or after the 1st day of August, 1985; and

(b) adding to the previously calculated operating costs for each annual accounting period commencing on or after the 1st day of January, 1987 the percentage increase in the Building Operating Cost Index for the calendar year in which the annual accounting period commences. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 32.

33. Where the Minister allows interest under subsection 79 (7) of the Act, the interest paid by the landlord in the base year period shall be considered as a cost component in the determination of the financial loss. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 33.

FINANCIAL LOSS

34. For the purposes of determining the landlord's financial loss, the Minister shall deduct from the revenue determined under section 31, the total of,

(a) operating costs referred to in sections 30 and 32;

(b) the interest paid on loans with respect to financial loss under subsection 79 (7) of the Act; and

(c) the financing costs referred to in section 30. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 34.

35.—(1) If the Minister finds that the financial loss that the landlord has experienced or will experience did not arise out of an increase in financing costs resulting from a purchase of the residential complex, the full financial loss shall be allowed as part of the total justified rent increase.

(2) If the Minister finds that part of the financial loss that the landlord has experienced or will experience did not arise out of an increase in financing costs resulting from a purchase of the residential complex, that portion of the financial loss shall be allowed in full as part of the total justified rent increase and that portion which did arise out of an increase in financing costs resulting from a purchase or purchases shall be allowed subject to subsections 79 (3), (5) and (6) of the Act. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 35.

36. For the purposes of clause 79 (6) (a) of the Act, a residential complex "was constructed for the purpose of such a purchase" where,

(a) prior to the date of first occupancy of the residential complex, there is an unconditional agreement of purchase and sale or a conditional agreement of purchase and sale that required either completion of the residential complex or achievement of certain occupancy levels, prior to the transfer of title; or

(b) the purchase occurred within one year of the date that 90 per cent of the total rental units in the residential complex had been initially occupied. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 36.

37. If the landlord purchases a residential complex in a non-arm's length transaction, the purchase may be recognized if,

(a) the financing costs, if any, do not exceed the amount for similar market transactions; and

(b) the agreement of purchase and sale was entered into in good faith. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 37.

38. For the purposes of subsection 79 (7) of the Act, the rate of interest allowed on loans shall be the actual rate of interest paid unless it exceeds the rate for similar market transactions. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 38.

39.—(1) For the purposes of clause 92 (1) (a) of the Act, where an order provides for the phase in of a financial loss, the financial loss shall be phased in in the manner set out in this section.

(2) The initial year phase in amount shall be included in the justified rent increase commencing on the effective date of the first rent increase under the order.

(3) The amount of the phase in attributable to the elimination of financial loss for each subsequent year shall be the lesser of,

(a) the balance of the adjusted financial loss account as determined under subsection 34 (c) or

(b) 5 per cent of the last lawful rents that were charged.

(4) For the purposes of determining the amount of the financial loss to be eliminated in each year subsequent to the initial year phase in as set out in subsection (2), the financial loss account shall be adjusted annually by deducting the phase in amount in that year and by deducting 1 per cent of the gross potential rent for that year and the balance of the financial loss count shall be carried forward for the subsequent year phase in until such time as the financial loss has been eliminated in full.

(5) Where an order provides for a subsequent year phase in, the landlord shall file with the Minister at least 150 days prior to the next anniversary date of the first effective rent increase, or such later time as the Minister may allow, confirmation of the amount of rent charged for each rental unit since the last effective date of rent increase and the amounts which will have been charged up to and including the month prior to the first effective date of rent increase to be affected by the phase in as indicated by notices of rent increase that have been served.

(6) Where the landlord fails to file within the time period mentioned in subsection (5), the phase in amount concerning the elimination of financial loss shall not be effective as part of the rent increase otherwise determined under sections 71 and 92 of the Act, but nothing in this Regulation prevents the landlord from making another application under the Act.

(7) For the purposes of subsection (3), the "lawful rents that were charged" means the lawful rents charged for each rental unit for the month preceding the effective date of the first rent increase multiplied by twelve. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 39.

40. For the purposes of subsection 79 (2) of the Act, "venue" means revenue as determined under section 3. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 40.

41.—(1) For the purposes of clause 92 (1) (d) of the Act, an allowance to relieve the landlord from hardship shall be phased in in the manner set out in this section.

(2) Where the Minister is of the opinion that it is necessary to relieve the landlord from hardship, the initial year phase in amount included in the justified rent increase commencing on the effective date of the first rent increase under the order, shall be,

- (a) the amount or any portion thereof determined under subsection 79 (2) of the Act, if the landlord has experienced a financial loss in the base year period that has not resulted from a purchase;
- (b) the amount or any portion thereof determined under subsection 79 (2) of the Act, if the landlord has not experienced a financial loss in the base year period; or
- (c) the amount determined under subsection 79 (5) of the Act.

(3) Where there has been an initial phase in under clauses (2) (a) and (b), the balance of the amount determined under subsection 79 (2) of the Act shall be phased in in the subsequent year. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 1.

RATE OF RETURN AND ECONOMIC LOSS

42.—(1) If a residential complex is owned or controlled by the original owner who constructed the residential complex, the landlord's initial invested equity shall be determined by deducting the total financing allowed from the value of the residential complex.

(2) In subsection (1), the "value of the residential complex" shall be determined on the basis of the value of the building plus the value of the land.

(3) The value of the land is based on, at the landlord's choice,

- (a) the market value of the land, as determined by a professional appraiser, as of the date that the building permit is issued; or
- (b) the actual cost of the land, up to the date of the building permit, plus up to two years of carrying costs experienced during the two-year period prior to the date the building permit is issued.

(4) In subsection (3),

"actual cost of the land" includes,

- (a) the purchase price,
- (b) the legal fees and disbursements related to the purchase,
- (c) the land transfer tax and retail sales tax, related to the purchase,
- (d) the professional fees and costs associated with a physical inspection and evaluation,
- (e) the professional appraisal fees,
- (f) the costs of obtaining financing related to the purchase unless it can be established that the amount exceeds the amount which is reasonable for similar market transactions,
- (g) the cost of application and independent professional representation for land use and zoning,
- (h) the costs experienced by the landlord to provide zoning, improvements and services to the property, including access roads, water and sewage, hydro, gas and site development,
- (i) charges, levies, impost fees or other financial commitments required by municipalities in a development agreement,
- (j) demolition costs, and
- (k) any other costs reasonably incurred in the acquisition and preparation for development of the land;

"carrying costs" means,

- (a) interest paid on financing related to the purchase of the land,
- (b) interest that may be deemed on the landlord's own funds used for the purchase of the land, at a rate which does not exceed similar market debt transactions,
- (c) municipal realty taxes and local improvement charges,
- (d) insurance, and
- (e) any other costs that may be reasonably experienced as carrying costs, net of any revenue received with respect to the land.

(5) When determining the carrying costs under clause (3) (b), if the total revenue received in the two years immediately prior to the date the building permit is issued,

- (a) exceeds the carrying costs during that period, any loss experienced in any two years prior to that period shall be deducted from the net revenue and,
 - (i) if the net amount is a profit, it shall be deducted from the actual cost of the land as otherwise determined under subsection (3), or
 - (ii) if the net amount is a loss or is at breakeven, there shall be no adjustment to the actual cost of the land as otherwise determined under subsection (3); or
- (b) is less than the carrying costs, the net amount shall be deemed to be the carrying costs and shall be added to the actual cost of the land as otherwise determined under subsection (3).

(6) The value of the building shall be determined on the basis of,

- (a) the cost of equipment and furnishings relating to the residential complex including purchase and installation;
- (b) the cost of landscaping and paving;
- (c) the cost of servicing the land not provided for as of the date of the building permit and subsequently provided by the landlord;
- (d) costs experienced during the initial rent-up period, to the extent that they have not otherwise been recognized including,
 - (i) operating costs,

(ii) financing costs,

(iii) rental incentives for tenants that do not exceed the value of discount benefit in the nature of a discount or reduced rent paid or allowed to the tenant subject to the limitations set out in section 20,

(iv) costs of preparation and maintenance of model suites,

(v) compensation paid to rental agent required to promote initial occupancy of the residential complex,

(vi) costs of advertising and marketing required to promote the initial occupancy of the residential complex, and

(vii) actual vacancy losses;

(e) the indirect costs including pre-payment made to reduce the effective interest rate and independent professional fees incurred for representation before regulatory bodies and

(f) construction costs, including,

(i) architectural, engineering and planning costs, exclusive of any amount directly related to the management and supervision of the project,

(ii) direct labour and material costs including contract cost for labour and material including contracts for construction,

(iii) a management and administration allowance in the amount determined under subsection (7), and

(iv) payments made related to construction financing costs, that were experienced during the initial rent-up period.

(7) The management and administration allowance shall be determined as follows:

1. Where the construction is performed by persons other than persons in the direct employ of the landlord but who are subject to the supervision of the landlord or direct employee of the landlord or an architect, engineer or planner with whom the landlord has contracted to provide management supervision, an allowance of 7.5 per cent of the amount determined under subsection (6) (f) (ii) shall be allowed if such costs have not otherwise been recognized.

2. If construction is performed by persons in the direct employ of the landlord, an administrative allowance shall be allowed of 7.5 per cent of the direct labour and material costs and a management allowance shall be allowed of 7.5 per cent of the total of the direct labour and material costs and the administrative allowance unless the allowances have otherwise been recognized in determining a rent increase.

(8) If the residential complex is part of a project that includes more than one residential complex or that includes non-residential components, the value of the residential complex shall be determined on the basis of market value, as determined by a professional appraiser, as a proportion of the appraised value of the project, as if fully leased, unless it is more reasonable to allocate the value on another basis.

(9) If the residential complex is part of a project in which the components are completed at different times, the value of the residential complex under review shall be determined on the basis of its market value, as determined by a professional appraiser, at the time of first occupancy of the residential complex, unless it is more reasonable to allocate the value on another basis.

(10) If the residential complex is purchased, the landlord's initial invested equity is the acquisition costs less the allowed financing plus the principal portion of the debt not otherwise allowed, up to the amount of the acquisition costs.

(11) Notwithstanding subsection (10), if the residential complex has been purchased during the initial rent-up period, the landlord's initial invested equity is the acquisition costs and the costs determined under subsection (6) less the allowed financing experienced by the landlord.

(12) The capitalized financial losses are the accumulated total of,

(a) the annual allowances for capital expenditures that would have been allowed under the Act and have been experienced by the landlord with respect to the residential complex after the initial rent-up period up to the commencement of the base year period;

(b) the financial losses experienced by the landlord as determined by deducting the financing costs and the operating costs from,

(i) where the residential complex has been purchased after the initial rent-up period, the actual revenue for the period that has been completed since the date of purchase up to the commencement of the base year period, and

(ii) where there has been no purchase since construction, the actual revenue for the period from the initial rent-up period to the commencement of the base year period; and

(c) the financial losses as determined under section 34 plus actual vacancy losses experienced during the base year period. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 42.

43.—(1) For the purpose of determining a landlord's economic loss, the landlord's rate of return shall be the ratio of the landlord's positive revenue as a percentage of the landlord's initial invested equity and capitalized losses in respect of a residential complex.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the landlord's positive revenue means the portion of the landlord's revenue as determined under section 31 that exceeds the allowed costs determined under sections 29, 30, 32 and 33. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 43.

44. For the purposes of clause 80 (1) (b) of the Act, the three-year moving average of the Canada Bond rate for ten years and over shall be determined for each calendar year commencing the 1st day of January, 1987 on the basis of the sum divided by thirty-six of the average annual bond yield for each of the thirty-six months up to and including the month of October, in the preceding calendar year, as published in the Bank of Canada Review, Series B #14013. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 44.

45.—(1) For the purposes of clause 92 (1) (a) of the Act, where an order provides for the phase in of economic loss, the economic loss shall be phased in in the manner set out in this section.

(2) If the landlord has experienced a financial loss and an economic loss, the full elimination of the financial loss shall be allowed before the elimination of the economic loss is allowed.

(3) Where there is a purchase, the maximum amount to be allowed annually for the elimination of a financial loss is the amount permitted by subsection 79 (3) of the Act.

(4) For the first year of eliminating an economic loss, the lesser of the total economic loss and the permitted allowance as set out in subsection 80 (2) of the Act shall be allowed.

(5) For the purposes of determining the amount of the phase in to eliminate the economic loss in each subsequent year, the economic loss account shall be adjusted each year by deducting the maximum economic loss allowed for that annual accounting period and by deducting 1 per cent of the gross potential rent for that period and the balance shall be carried forward for the subsequent year's calculation.

(6) For the purposes of determining the maximum economic loss allowed for each subsequent period, the lesser of the balance of the economic loss account and the amount permitted by subsection 80 (2) of the Act shall be allowed.

(7) Subsections (5) and (6) apply in each subsequent year until such time as the adjusted economic loss outstanding in the economic loss account has been eliminated in full. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 45.

EXTRAORDINARY OPERATING COSTS

46.—(1) For the purposes of determining extraordinary operating costs, "revenue" means gross potential rent.

(2) If an item is not set out as an individual operating cost item in the Building Operating Cost Index, it shall be included in the category known as "Miscellaneous". O. Reg. 93/87, s. 46.

47.—(1) If a landlord claims extraordinary operating costs for operating costs in categories in the Building Operating Cost Index, the landlord shall submit proof of the actual costs in the categories that have been experienced or will be experienced in the base year period and the projected year period.

(2) If the landlord has made an application under section 74 of the Act, whether or not the landlord has claimed extraordinary operating costs, a tenant may make representations as to the actual costs in the categories in the Building Operating Cost Index that have been or will be experienced in the base year period and the projected year period.

(3) For the purposes of clause 75 (b) of the Act, where it is found that the landlord has experienced or will experience an extraordinary operating cost and,

- (a) if there is an increase in operating costs for a category in the Building Operating Cost Index greater than the component for that category, the amount by which the operating costs which the landlord has experienced or will experience in the projected year period exceeds the operating costs experienced in the base year period as adjusted by the component for that category shall be added to the justified rent increase; and
- (b) if there is a decrease in operating costs for a category in the Building Operating Cost Index or there is an increase which is less than the component for that category, the amount by which the operating costs that the landlord has experienced or will experience in the projected year period differ from the operating costs experienced in the base year period as adjusted by the component for that category shall be deducted from the justified rent increase.

(4) For the purposes of clauses (3) (a) and (b), the relevant component in the Building Operating Cost Index is the change for the category in the Building

Operating Cost Index used in the construction of the Residential Complex Cost Index for the calendar year in which the effective date of the first rent increase that is applied for occurs. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 47.

CHANGES IN SERVICES AND FACILITIES AND IN THE STANDARD OF MAINTENANCE AND REPAIR

48.—(1) For the purposes of clause 75 (f) of the Act changes in parking and cablevision shall be determined in accordance with subsections 3 (1) to (5), (7) and (8), and section 19.

(2) For the purposes of clause 75 (f) of the Act, the Minister shall make findings regarding changes in the services and facilities, other than parking and cablevision, in respect of the residential complex or an rental unit located therein in the manner set out in this section.

(3) If the Minister finds that a service or facility previously provided by the landlord for a rental unit in the residential complex is withdrawn, the rent increase otherwise determined for the rental units affected shall be reduced by an amount that reflects the average monthly cost experienced by the landlord in the previous twelve months for providing the service or facility.

(4) If the Minister finds that a service or facility previously provided by the landlord for a rental unit in the residential complex is reduced, the Minister shall determine the average monthly cost experienced by the landlord in the previous twelve months for providing the service or facility and shall determine the proportional cost to the landlord of the reduction in the service or facility, and the rent increase otherwise determined shall be reduced accordingly for those rental units affected.

(5) If the Minister finds that a service or facility provided for the first time by a landlord,

- (a) the Minister shall determine whether the landlord has experienced or will experience capital expenditure; or
- (b) if the service or facility is found to be an operating cost experienced on an ongoing basis and is not a capital expenditure, the Minister shall determine whether the cost which has been or will be experienced in the projected year period is an extraordinary operating cost and, if so, the cost of providing the service or facility on an ongoing basis thereafter shall form part of the general building operating costs for the residential complex as represented by the Building Operating Cost Index and shall be treated as operating costs. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 48.

49.—(1) If the Minister determines that a withdrawal or reduction of a service or facility under section 48 is temporary, no adjustment to the rent increase shall be made.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a reduction of service or facility is temporary if,

- (a) it is for a reasonable length of time in the circumstances but, in any event, not exceeding twelve months; and
- (b) the landlord has demonstrated an intention to restore the service or facility within the period mentioned in clause (a). O. Reg. 93/87, s. 49.

50.—(1) For the purposes of clause 75 (f) of the Act, a change in the standard of maintenance and repair means a change that has occurred in the standard of maintenance and repair during the period commencing with the beginning of the reference year up to the end of the time for submitting representations under section 74 of the Act.

2) The Minister shall not include an allowance to reflect a change in the standard of maintenance and repair if,

- (a) the standard of maintenance and repair had deteriorated and the cost of an improvement was made during the period referred to in subsection (1) that resulted in returning the standard of maintenance and repair back to the former standard of maintenance and repair; or
- (b) the standard of maintenance and repair has deteriorated as a result of making a capital expenditure.

3) The Minister shall include an allowance to reflect a change in the standard of maintenance and repair if,

- (a) there has been a deterioration in the standard of maintenance and repair immediately subsequent to an improvement and the previous order under this Act did not make an allowance for the improvement because clause (2) (a) applied; or
- (b) a rent increase was reduced in a previous order under this Act as a result of a deterioration in the standard of maintenance and repair and there has been a subsequent improvement during the period referred to in subsection (1).

4) For the purposes of calculating the justified rent increase under section 74 of the Act, an allowance for a change in the standard of maintenance and repair shall be calculated on the basis of the reasonable value of the change. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 50.

51.—(1) For the purposes of paragraph 2 of subsection 94 (5) of the Act, a change that affects the rental unit means a change that has occurred in the standard of maintenance and repair for the period of twelve months prior to the date of the application, and includes a change that directly or indirectly affects the rental unit.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph 2 of subsection 94 (5) of the Act,

- (a) where the Minister finds that a service or facility previously provided by the landlord for the rental unit has been withdrawn, the rent increase shall be reduced by the amount that reflects the average monthly cost experienced by the landlord in the twelve month period prior to the date of the application for providing the service or facility for that rental unit;
- (b) where the Minister finds that a service or facility previously provided by the landlord for the rental unit is reduced, the rent increase shall be reduced by the appropriate proportion of the average monthly cost experienced by the landlord in the twelve-month period prior to the date of the application for providing the service or facility for that rental unit; and
- (c) where the Minister finds a service or facility has been added during the period in which another has been eliminated or reduced, the costs shall be off-set against each other. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 51.

52.—(1) If the Minister determines that a withdrawal or reduction of a service or facility found under section 51 is temporary, no reduction to the rent increase shall be made.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a reduction of a service or facility is temporary if,

- (a) it is for a reasonable length of time in the circumstances but, in any event, not exceeding twelve months; and
- (b) the landlord has demonstrated an intention to restore the service or facility within the period mentioned in clause (a). O. Reg. 93/87, s. 52.

53. Where the Minister determines under section 51 that a change in the standard of maintenance and repair has occurred as a result of making a capital expenditure, no reduction shall be made to the intended rent increase. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 53.

54. For the purposes of determining the amount by which the rent increase shall be reduced under subsection 94 (5) of the Act, the reasonable value of the change of the standard of maintenance and repair shall be considered. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 54.

FINDINGS UNDER CLAUSE 75 (j) OF THE ACT

55.—(1) For the purposes of clause 75 (j) of the Act, the Minister shall make findings regarding,

- (a) the allocation of costs and revenue that are shared and specific to a project that includes more than one residential complex;
- (b) the allocation of costs and revenue that are shared and specific to a project that includes residential and non-residential components;
- (c) the fees that have been experienced or will be experienced by the landlord for the services of a consultant who is not a related person and who represents the landlord on the application;
- (d) the actual operating costs under section 77 of the Act, in respect of management and administrative overhead which the landlord has experienced or will experience;
- (e) any vacancy loss that exceeds 2 per cent of the gross potential rent of the residential complex;
- (f) fees that have been or will be experienced by a landlord for the services of a person who is not a related person in connection with the renewing of financing related to the residential complex; and
- (g) fees and premiums that have been or will be experienced by a landlord for mortgage insurance other than life insurance provided by a person who is not a related person.

(2) The fees determined under clause (1) (f) shall be added to the financing costs otherwise determined and amortized over the term of the financing to which the fees relate with interest at the rate allowed by the Minister for the financing.

(3) The fees and premiums determined under clause (1) (g) shall be added to the financing costs otherwise determined and amortized over the term of the financing to which the fees relate with interest at the rate allowed by the Minister for the financing.

(4) The fees determined under clause (1) (c) to a maximum of $25 per rental unit shall be allowed, amortized over a period of five years with interest at the rate provided for in subsection 11 (4). O. Reg. 93/87, s. 55.

56.—(1) For the purposes of subsection 77 (1) of the Act, "actual operating costs" means costs that the landlord has experienced or will experience for the base year period for the categories in the Building Operating Cost Index.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), costs for the category known as "Management and Administrative Overhead" as determined under clause 55 (1) (d) shall be,

- (a) the actual costs that the landlord has experienced or will experience; or

- (b) if the landlord does not submit proof of actual costs, an allowance of up to 5 per cent of the maximum rent chargeable for each rental unit in the residential complex during the base year period.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), if the residential complex is a mobile home park or a site or related group of sites on each of which is located a single family dwelling that is a permanent structure, costs in the category known as "Management and Administrative Overhead" as determined under clause 55 (1) shall be,

- (a) the actual costs that the landlord has experienced or will experience; or
- (b) if the landlord does not submit proof of actual cost, an allowance of up to 10 per cent of the maximum rent chargeable for each rental unit in the residential complex during the base year period. O. Reg. 93/87, s. 56.

57.—(1) In clause 55 (1) (e), "vacancy loss" means the loss of maximum rent revenue for the period during which the rental unit is not occupied if the landlord has made reasonable efforts to rent the rental unit.

(2) The Minister shall determine the amount of vacancy loss experienced by the landlord in the base year period that exceeds 2 per cent of the gross potential rent and shall allow the excess amount amortized over a period of five years with interest at the rate provided for in subsection 11 (4) unless it has been otherwise allowed.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2), vacancy loss during the initial rent-up period shall be included in the initial year rent-up costs as set out in clause 42 (6) (d). O. Reg. 93/87, s. 57.

58.—(1) For the purposes of clause 55 (1) (b), where a residential project includes residential and non-residential components,

- (a) the costs that are shared among the components shall be allocated to the residential complex in the same proportion that the revenue of the residential complex determined under section 31 bears to the share of the revenue of the total project as if fully leased unless it is demonstrated that it is reasonable to allocate the shared cost on another basis; and
- (b) the costs that are attributable only to the residential complex shall be allocated to the residential complex.

(2) For the purposes of clause 55 (1) (a), where a project includes more than one residential complex,

AND IN THE MATTER OF a Review of Decision No. 72 of the Workers' Compensation Appeals Tribunal

NOTICE OF HEARING

On March 6, 1987, the Board of Directors of the Workers' Compensation Board passed the following resolution:

"That because the decision represents a significant change from existing Workers' Compensation Board policy and practice, and having regard for the board of directors' ultimate responsibility for compensation policy, and without intending to indicate any view as to the correctness or otherwise of decision #72, the board is satisfied that decision #72 is a decision of the kind contemplated by section 86n. Therefore, the board shall review decision #72".

Specifically, in Decision No. 72, the Workers' Compensation Appeals Tribunal interpreted and applied subsections 1 (1) (a) (ii), 3 (1), and 3 (3) of the Workers' Compensation Act, in a manner not consistent with the current policies of the Workers' Compensation Board.

In accordance with the resolution the Board of Directors will hold a hearing pursuant to section 81 of the Workers' Compensation Act on June 5, 1987, at 9.00 a.m., 26th Floor Boardroom, 2 Bloor Street East, Toronto in order to consider an issue concerning the policy and general law of the Act raised by Decision No. 72.

The issue to be addressed at this hearing may be set out as follows:

"What is the proper interpretation of subsections 1 (1) (a) (ii), 3 (1), and 3 (3) of the Workers' Compensation Act".

Those who were parties to the reconsideration application before the Workers' Compensation Appeals Tribunal in respect of Decision No. 72 will have standing to make both written and oral submissions.

Any other person wishing to participate in the section 86n review may do so by a written submission alone, or may apply to the Board of Directors for standing to make representations by both written and oral submission.

Written submissions are to be no longer than fifteen (15) pages, and oral submissions may be limited having regard to the number of parties granted standing to participate.

The facts as set out in the WCAT Decision No. 72 are to be taken as binding for the purpose of the section 86n review. No submissions, either written or oral, will be entertained on the factual determinations made by WCAT.

Règles de base relatives aux crédits d'impôt de l'Ontario

• Vous devez accompagner votre formule «Crédits d'impôt de l'Ontario» d'une déclaration d'impôt sur le revenu des particuliers dûment remplie.

1. Crédit d'impôts fonciers a) Ce crédit peut être demandé par tous les particuliers qui résidaient en Ontario le 31 décembre 1986, sauf: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • les personnes de moins de 16 ans • les personnes de moins de 21 ans qui habitent à la maison et qui sont déclarées à charge • les personnes de 65 ans ou plus • les personnes dont le conjoint a 65 ans ou plus, excepté si le mariage a eu lieu en 1986 (voir n° 3a) • les successions de personnes décédées • les étrangers qui sont entrés au Canada comme visiteurs et qui sont titulaires d'un permis de séjour d'étudiant • les personnes qui ont quitté l'Ontario au cours de l'année. b) Le crédit d'impôts fonciers doit être demandé par le conjoint au revenu imposable le plus élevé, peu importe celui qui détient le titre de propriété de la résidence principale. Si le mariage a eu lieu en 1986, voir le n° 3a). c) Résidence principale <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • désigne le logement, en Ontario, habituellement habité en 1986 • peut désigner une chambre d'hôtel, une maison mobile ou une pension; • ne comprend pas une résidence exempte d'impôts fonciers, par exemple une base militaire et une maison située dans une réserve indienne. • ne comprend pas une maison de santé si les frais supportés par les pensionnaires sont subventionnés, ni certains établissements. Un résident de l'Ontario qui déménage au cours de l'année sans quitter la province peut demander pour chaque résidence successive le crédit pour la période réelle d'habitation. d) Coût d'habitation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • pour les propriétaires, les impôts fonciers versés pour une résidence principale pendant l'année d'imposition (sauf les paiements de capital et d'intérêts sur hypothèque); • pour les locataires, 20% du loyer versé pour la résidence principale pendant l'année d'imposition (sauf le coût des repas ou un montant payé aux membres de la famille qui n'est pas inclus dans leur revenu aux fins de l'impôt), ou lorsque des impôts fonciers et un loyer sont versés pour une même résidence principale, 20% du total des impôts fonciers et du loyer versés. Dans ce cas, le total doit être inscrit à la ligne 555; • les impôts fonciers ou le loyer versés pour une résidence secondaire (par ex., un chalet) ou pour la partie d'une maison qui est louée ou qui est utilisée à des fins commerciales ne doivent pas être inclus; • si la résidence principale n'a pas été habitée toute l'année, il faut réduire le coût d'habitation à proportion de la période d'habitation. e) Cohabitation Si deux contribuables principaux ou plus partagent une résidence principale, le coût d'habitation doit être attribué <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • selon le degré de propriété réelle de chaque contribuable principal dans le logement ou • selon le loyer payé par chaque locataire. f) Résidence d'étudiants Le coût d'habitation pour la plupart des résidences d'universités, de collèges et d'écoles de sciences infirmières en Ontario est fixé à 25,00 $. Quiconque habite une résidence de ce genre dont le coût d'habitation a été fixé à l'avance n'a droit qu'au montant susmentionné pour la période de l'année où il a habité une telle résidence. Pour savoir si le coût d'habitation de votre résidence a été fixé comme il est indiqué ci-dessus, adressez-vous au Centre d'information.	g) Recus Vous n'êtes pas tenu d'annexer à la présente formule les reçus de loyers ou d'impôts fonciers pour 1986, mais vous devez les produire sur demande. 2. Crédit de taxe sur les ventes Ce crédit peut être demandé par tous les particuliers qui résidaient en Ontario le 31 décembre 1986, sauf: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • les personnes de moins de 16 ans • les personnes déclarées à charge aux fins de l'impôt sur le revenu par un autre résident du Canada • les personnes de 65 ans ou plus • les successions de personnes décédées • les étrangers qui sont entrés au Canada comme visiteurs et qui sont titulaires d'un permis de séjour d'étudiant • les personnes qui ont quitté l'Ontario au cours de l'année. 3. Renseignements généraux a) Mariage au cours de l'année Les deux conjoints ont moins de 65 ans Lorsqu'un mariage a lieu au cours de l'année, il y a souvent trois coûts d'habitation à considérer: (A) le loyer ou les impôts fonciers versés pour la partie de l'année précédant le mariage par le conjoint au revenu imposable le plus élevé (B) le loyer ou les impôts fonciers versés avant le mariage par le conjoint au revenu imposable le moins élevé (C) le loyer ou les impôts fonciers versés après le mariage. Voici les deux façons de demander un crédit d'impôt de l'Ontario: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • le conjoint au revenu imposable le plus élevé remplit (A) + (B) + (C) dans le calcul de coût d'habitation ou • le conjoint au revenu imposable le plus élevé remplit (A) + (C) dans le calcul du coût d'habitation, alors que l'autre conjoint remplit (B). Un des conjoints a moins de 65 ans Le conjoint de moins de 65 ans a droit au crédit d'impôts fonciers fondé sur son coût d'habitation avant le mariage, à condition que ce coût d'habitation ne soit pas inclus dans la demande de subvention pour impôts fonciers de l'autre conjoint. b) Séparation au cours de l'année Les deux conjoints ont moins de 65 ans L'année de la séparation, chaque conjoint peut inclure ce qui suit dans le calcul du coût d'habitation; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • sa part convenue du loyer ou des impôts fonciers versés pour la partie de l'année précédant la séparation et • le loyer ou les impôts fonciers versés après la séparation. Un des conjoints a moins de 65 ans Dans le cas où le conjoint de moins de 65 ans continue à habiter la résidence principale après la séparation, il peut demander le crédit d'impôts fonciers fondé sur son coût d'habitation depuis la date de la séparation jusqu'à la fin de l'année d'imposition.

AIR SAMPLING METHOD FOR ETHYLENE OXIDE1. Principle of the Sampling Method

Air, possibly containing ethylene oxide, is drawn at a fixed flow rate for a known duration through two glass tubes in tandem, each containing 20/40 mesh activated charcoal. Each tube is analyzed separately for ethylene oxide, determined as 2-bromo-ethanol, by desorption, derivatization with hydrobromic acid, and by gas chromatographic assay of the treated solution. The presence of ethylene oxide in the second or back-up tube is used to indicate the extent of breakthrough during air sampling. In addition to personal sampling, area samples may be collected by this method by placing a sampling train on a suitable support at a strategically selected location.

2. Equipment

The sampling train used to obtain an air sample containing ethylene oxide is to include the following components and satisfy the criteria suggested:

(1) A battery operated portable pump which:

- (a) is capable of delivering, for 6-8 hours, not less than 0.050 litres of air per minute (L/min) with the glass tubes, each containing activated charcoal, in the sampling train. The maximum deviation from the prescribed flow rate is not to exceed $\pm 5\%$ and it is suggested that the pump be equipped with a pulsation damper;
- (b) is intrinsically safe, i.e., certified by an accepted agency as safe for use in potentially explosive atmospheres;
- (c) includes a mechanism for calibration and control of the flow rate; and

(d) has an on-off switch and flow rate control or adjustment mechanism which are as tamper-proof as possible.

(2) Two sample collection devices (glass tubes), each of which is constructed from glass tubing approximately 80 millimetres (mm) in length, 6 mm in inner diameter and 8 mm in outer diameter and contains in sequence the following materials:

- (a) a plug of silanized glass wool immediately behind the inlet port; and
- (b) 20/40 mesh activated charcoal of which the front tube contains 400 mg and the back-up tube 200 mg.

Each tube is flame-sealed at both ends and is supplied with two caps for sealing the tube after it has been used for air sampling.

(3) A tube holder which:

- (a) includes an alligator clip for attachment to clothing;
- (b) includes an adapter for flexible tubing to ensure a leak-proof fit for the sample collection device; and
- (c) provides adequate protection against tube breakage.

(4) Tubing of sufficient length with appropriate wall thickness to prevent collapsing when air is drawn through and with the appropriate inner diameter which will provide a leak-proof fit to the tube holder and to the inlet port of the portable pump.

- (5) A thermometer for ambient air temperature measurement, accurate to $\pm 1^{\circ}\text{C}$.
- (6) A barometer for measuring atmospheric pressure, accurate to ± 5 mm Hg (± 0.67 kPa).

3. Sampling Procedure

(1) Preparation of pumps:

- (a) The pump battery pack shall be fully charged according to the manufacturer's instructions before use. After a pump, with the fully charged battery pack, has been operated for a duration as recommended by the manufacturer, another fully-charged battery pack shall be substituted for the used one if continued operation of the same pump on the same day is intended.
- (b) Flow meters or constant flow devices on the pumps shall be calibrated at 0.050 L/min with the glass tubes in line by using a primary standard, such as a bubble meter, and the recommended procedure in the manufacturer's instructions for using such a primary standard apparatus, after:
 - (i) not more than 40 hours of operation;
 - (ii) receiving unusually harsh or potentially damaging treatment;
 - (iii) being disassembled for maintenance.

(2) Sampling:

- (a) Assemble the sampling train by connecting one end of the flexible tubing to the inlet port of the pump and the other end to the adapter on the tube holder. The ends of the glass tubes are broken to form openings of at least 2 mm. They are connected by the shortest possible length of tubing and are inserted into their holders.

- (b) Check for air leaks in the sampling train by turning on the pump and sealing the open end of the tube. The air flow indicator on a pump with a flow meter should drop to the zero flow position and oscillate slightly. If this does not occur, find the leak and either repair or replace the faulty component.
- (c) Label both tubes with appropriate sample numbers.
- (d) Attach the pump preferably to the worker's belt or place it in a pocket, and fix the tube holders to the worker's clothing, as near as possible to the breathing zone, with the tubes vertical and the air inlet port facing upward. Ensure that the equipment will not interfere with the worker's normal duties.
- (e) Check again that the sampling train is properly assembled and switch on the pump. Allow the flow rate to stabilize for a short duration, then adjust the rate to the pre-calibrated mark of 0.050 L/min, if the pump has a flow meter. Pumps with constant flow devices shall not be reset after the flow rate control mechanism has been calibrated to deliver air at this rate. A calibrated external flow meter may be used to check the air flow rate.
- (f) Note the following information for each sampling train:
 - (i) date of sampling;
 - (ii) company name;

- (iii) model and serial number of the sampling pump;
 - (iv) calibration date of the sampling pump;
 - (v) name of worker being monitored;
 - (vi) job title of worker;
 - (vii) work or operation performed;
 - (viii) tube or sample number;
 - (ix) air flow rate;
 - (x) time of initiation of sampling.
- (g) Ensure that for any sampling performed during any survey, two sets of blank glass tubes are obtained from the same source and the same batch as the sample tubes. One of the sets is handled in the same manner as the sample (break, seal and transport) except that no air is drawn through it.
- (h) The maximum sampling duration for obtaining an air sample shall be selected to ensure that breakthrough will not occur. A maximum sampling duration of 100 minutes would be appropriate in most cases. A shorter sampling duration should be used to avoid significant breakthrough if a high concentration of ethylene oxide and/or the presence of other organic solvent vapours are known or suspected. However, the minimum sampling duration shall be selected so that a sufficient amount of ethylene oxide is collected for purposes of determining a time-weighted average. A minimum sampling duration of 15 minutes would be appropriate in most cases. A sufficient number of sequential air samples should be taken to cover a full work shift or operation during which the worker is exposed to ethylene oxide. Where it is necessary to obtain a better estimate of the worker's time-weighted average exposure, air sampling should be conducted for a sufficient number of work shifts or days in a work week.
- (i) During any sampling interval, the sampling train shall be checked periodically to ensure that it is functioning properly. The air flow rate shall not be readjusted after the initial flow rate is set. If the flow rate changes significantly, terminate sampling and take another sample.
- (j) The ambient air temperature and pressure in the sampling area, if required, shall be recorded at least once.
- (k) When two or more substances are known or suspected to be present in the air, such information, including the suspected identities, should be recorded since these compounds may interfere with the analysis.
- (l) To terminate sampling, perform the following sequence of steps:
- (i) check the air flow rate just prior to termination of air sampling;
 - (ii) record the time of termination of sampling;
 - (iii) switch off the pump and carefully remove the sampling train from the worker;
 - (iv) separate the front glass tube from the back-up tube, and cap the inlet and outlet ports of each;
 - (v) pack the capped tubes tightly to minimize breakage and ship them to a laboratory in an airtight plastic container inside a thermos containing ice.

- (m) Where a short-term exposure concentration determination is required, it shall be determined by following the procedure specified above but the air sample shall be taken for a period of 15 minutes. A sufficient number of air samples should be taken during the time periods when peak concentrations are anticipated from a knowledge of the work process, work operation, work cycle, or work practices.

4. Analysis and Calculation of Results

- (1) Follow the analytical method entitled "Determination of Ethylene Oxide as 2-Bromoethanol on Charcoal Used for Air Sampling" in carrying out the analyses of sample tubes for ethylene oxide.
- (2) Corrections for the field blank are made for each sample provided that the various amounts of analyte in all sample tubes are greater than the amount of analyte in the field blank tube.
- (3) When the amount of ethylene oxide in the back-up tube exceeds 25% of the total ethylene oxide found in both the front and back-up tubes, there has been a significant breakthrough and the concentration of ethylene oxide determined for the sample is likely underestimated. If a significant breakthrough is found in most of the samples analyzed, the sampling strategy used is to be reviewed and, if necessary, revised.

- (4) The concentration of ethylene oxide in an air sample can be calculated in parts per million by volume (ppm) by using the following equation:

$$C = \frac{A \times 0.556}{\frac{F \times t \times 298}{(273 + T)} \times \frac{P}{760}}$$

- where C = concentration of ethylene oxide in ppm
 A = corrected amount of ethylene oxide in the sample tube in μg
 F = air flow rate in litres per minute
 T = temperature in $^{\circ}\text{C}$
 P = pressure in mm Hg
 t = sampling duration in minutes.

THE DETERMINATION OF ETHYLENE OXIDE AS 2-BROMOETHANOL ON CHARCOAL USED FOR AIR SAMPLING

1. Principle of Method

- (1) Air is drawn at a specified rate for a known duration through two glass tubes arranged in sequence, each containing charcoal to adsorb the organic substances present. The tubes are then closed with the supplied plastic caps and kept cool (4°C) pending analysis.
- (2) Each tube is scored with a file and broken open. All the charcoal from a tube is transferred to a small, stoppered sample container and the analyte is desorbed with benzene containing 1% carbon disulfide.
- (3) The ethylene oxide in solution is reacted with hydrobromic acid, converting it to 2-bromoethanol.
- (4) The excess hydrobromic acid is neutralized with sodium carbonate and a known volume of the solution is injected into a gas chromatograph.
- (5) The detector response to 2-bromoethanol derived from ethylene oxide present in the sample is determined and compared with that of appropriate standards.
- (3) An electronic integrator or some other suitable method for measuring detector response.
- (4) Glass vials (5, 2 and 1 mL) with caps lined with an inert material such as polytetrafluoroethylene.
- (5) Microlitre syringes: 10 µL and other convenient sizes for preparing standards.
- (6) Pipettes: 1.0 mL delivery pipettes.
- (7) Assorted volumetric flasks.
- (8) Pressure-reducing valves: a 2-gauge, 2-stage, pressure-reducing valve and appropriate hose connections are needed for each tank of compressed gas used.
- (9) A rotary shaker.
- (10) A 10 mL gas-tight locking syringe.
- (11) Septa faced with inert material such as polytetrafluoroethylene.
- (12) An analytical balance capable of weighing to 0.1 mg.

2. Apparatus

- (1) Gas chromatograph equipped with an electron capture detector (ECD).
- (2) Column (3.3 m x 3.2 mm ID) packed with 10% FFAP coated on Chromosorb W, 60-80 mesh.

Note: Other contaminants collected with the analyte under review may modify the choice of column packing. Other columns may give an equivalent performance.

3. Reagents

- (1) Benzene, pesticide grade.
- (2) Carbon disulphide, chromatographic quality.
- (3) Ethylene oxide gas, 99% + purity.
- (4) Hydrobromic acid, 48%, reagent grade.
- (5) Sodium carbonate, anhydrous, reagent grade.

- (6) Desorbing solution, 99% benzene + 1% carbon disulphide (v/v).
- (7) Argon containing 5% methane as carrier gas for the gas chromatograph.
- (8) Deionized water.
- (9) n-Butanol.
- (e) About 0.15 g of sodium carbonate is added to the vial and, after the reaction subsides, the vial is resealed.
- (f) The clear solvent in the vial, which contains 2-bromoethanol derived from the ethylene oxide, is subjected to gas chromatography.

4. Procedure

(1) Cleaning of equipment:

- (a) Before use, all new glassware is cleaned to remove any residual grease or chemicals.
- (b) Glassware is cleaned by soaking in an approximately one in five dilution of concentrated nitric acid in water for at least 6 hours, and then rinsed thoroughly with tap water and deionized water, in that order, and then dried.

(2) Preparation of samples:

- (a) Each charcoal tube is scored with a file and broken open. The glass wool is removed and discarded. The charcoal from a tube is transferred to a 5 mL vial. Each tube is analyzed separately.
- (b) A 2.0 mL aliquot of desorbing solution is pipetted into each vial. The vials are sealed immediately and allowed to desorb for one hour on a rotary shaker. (All work with the desorbing solution is performed in a hood.)
- (c) The main portion of the desorbing solution containing the analyte is transferred to a clean 2 mL vial with a disposable pipette.
- (d) About 50 μ L of hydrobromic acid is added to the vial and, after closing the cap, the contents are mixed well for 5 minutes.

(3) Chromatographic analysis:

- (a) The typical operating conditions for the gas chromatograph, recommended for this analysis, are:
 - (i) 25 mL/minute carrier gas flow rate;
 - (ii) 210°C injector temperature;
 - (iii) 250°C detector temperature;
 - (iv) 150°C column temperature;
- (b) A sample volume of 2.0 μ L is injected into the GC and the area under the 2-bromoethanol peak is measured, preferably by means of an electronic integrator.
- (c) All blank tubes are analyzed in accordance with the total procedure.
- (d) It is also necessary to determine the blank value for the batch of charcoal used to prepare the sample tubes.

5. Calibration and Standards

(1) Stock standard preparation:

- (a) Pipette 5.0 mL of n-butanol into a 5 mL sample container.
- (b) Seal the container using a screw cap lined with a septum faced with an inert material such as polytetrafluoroethylene.

(c) Insert a spare syringe needle through the septum of the container and keep the needle tip above the liquid. This acts as an air bleed.

ethylene oxide determined by the second weighing (section 5(1)(k)).

(n) The exact concentration is determined from the following formula:

(d) Insert the tip of a second syringe needle through the septum and continue until the needle tip is below the level of the n-butanol.

$$\frac{\text{net weight (in mg) of ethylene oxide dissolved in n-butanol}}{5 \text{ mL}} \times \frac{\% \text{ purity of ethylene oxide}}{100}$$

(e) Allow the prepared sample container to stand until it equilibrates with the ambient temperature of the balance room (approximately one hour).

(2) A series of calibration standards is prepared from the stock standard by diluting suitable aliquot portions to 1.0 mL with desorbing solution. The standards required are 1, 5, 10 and 20 µg/mL.

(f) Weigh the container and contents on an analytical balance and note the weight.

(3) The calibration standards are treated in the same manner as the samples (sections 4(2)(c) to 4(3)(b)) before being subjected to gas chromatography.

(g) Draw 10 mL of ethylene oxide gas into a gas-tight syringe and close the valve.

(4) A standard curve is prepared by plotting concentration of ethylene oxide in µg/mL versus peak area of 2-bromoethanol and is found to be linear over the concentration range 1 to 20 µg ethylene oxide/mL.

(h) Connect the sealed gas-tight syringe to the sample container needle which has its tip below the level of the n-butanol.

(i) Open the syringe valve and expel the ethylene oxide slowly into the n-butanol.

Note: Due to daily variations in GC performance, a new calibration curve is determined daily.

(j) When all the ethylene oxide is expelled, disconnect the gas-tight syringe from the inserted needle.

6. Calculations

(k) Reweigh the sample container and contents.

(1) Read the concentration of ethylene oxide in µg/mL corresponding to each peak area (section 4(3)(b)) from the standard curve. The uncorrected weight of ethylene oxide in the sample is found by multiplying the concentration by 2.

(l) Remove the syringe needles from the septum.

(2) Corrections for the blank shall be made for each sample:

(m) The weight of ethylene oxide dissolved in n-butanol is calculated by subtracting the tare weight of sample container plus needles and n-butanol from that of container, needles, n-butanol and

$\mu\text{g} = \mu\text{g sample} - \mu\text{g blank}$, where

$\mu\text{g sample} = \mu\text{g found on the sample tube}$

$\mu\text{g blank} = \mu\text{g found on the blank tube}$

7. Detection Limit

The detection limit of ethylene oxide in desorbing solution, determined as 2-bromoethanol and based on a 2 μL injection, was found to be 0.5 μg ethylene oxide/mL of desorbing solution.

8. Interferences

Any compound which has the same retention time as 2-bromoethanol at the operating conditions described in this method may interfere. Retention time data for a single GC system does not provide proof of chemical identity; a mass spectrum may serve to confirm identity (see attached spectrum).

9. Precision

Ethylene oxide was used as the standard.

Standard solution being measured ($\mu\text{g/mL}$)	No. of samples	Relative standard deviation (%)
1.0	10	11.0
5.0	10	12.8
10.0	10	9.6

10. Determination of Desorption Efficiency

(1) The desorption efficiency may vary from one batch of charcoal to another and from one laboratory to another. Thus, it is necessary to determine, at least once, the percentage of ethylene oxide that is removed in the desorption process, for each batch of charcoal used. The percentage recovery is variable with the amount of ethylene oxide present and the concentration range shall cover that found in the samples.

Note: Unless a vapour chamber is available for the preparation of suitable spiked samples, the NIOSH technique of spiking samples with known amounts of a solution of the ethylene oxide standard dissolved in desorbing solution should be followed.

(2) Procedure for determining desorption efficiency:

(a) 400 mg of activated charcoal is placed in a 5 mL glass vial.

(b) A known volume of a standard solution of ethylene oxide in desorbing solution is injected directly into the activated charcoal with a microlitre syringe, and the vial is sealed using a screw cap with a septum faced with an inert material such as polytetrafluoroethylene. Typically, 10 to 150 μL of solution are added to spike at levels from 0.5 to 20 μg of ethylene oxide.

(c) The prepared vials are allowed to stand overnight to assure complete adsorption of the analyte onto the charcoal. These vials are referred to as the sample.

(d) A blank is prepared by placing 400 mg of activated charcoal into a 5 mL glass vial, adding to it an amount of desorbing solution equal to that used in the sample preparation and treating it in the manner described above.

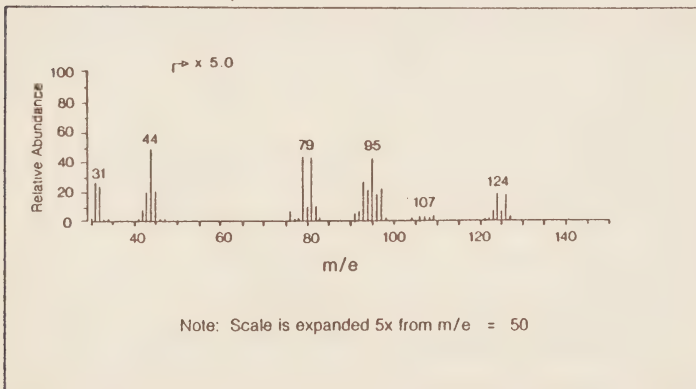

(e) The sample and blank are treated in exactly the same manner as the sample described in sections 4(2)(b) to 4(3)(b).

$$\text{desorption efficiency} = \frac{\text{average weight recovered}}{\text{weight added}}$$

Amount of ethylene oxide added to sample (μg)	No. of samples	Desorption efficiency (%)	Relative standard deviation (%)
0.5	10	99.2	19.3
2.5	10	101.2	10.0
5.0	10	103.4	16.9

Note: The data listed in sections 7, 9 and 10 were obtained on a Hewlett-Packard 5840A gas chromatograph. The mass spectrum was obtained on a Hewlett-Packard 5985 GC/MS system. The equipment listed above is specified for clarification purposes only and should not be taken as an endorsement by the Ministry.

Mass Spectrum of 2-Bromoethanol

SAMPLING AND ANALYTICAL PROCEDURES USED BY THE MINISTRY WILL BE REVIEWED PERIODICALLY AND, IF NECESSARY, REVISED.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), an employer to whom this Regulation applies shall take every precaution reasonable in the circumstances to ensure that every worker who is not an employee of the employer but who is working in the work place of the employer and is exposed to ethylene oxide and whose health is likely to be affected thereby is protected and the worker shall comply with the requirements of the employer.

(3) Subsection (2) and sections 4 to 17 of this Regulation do not apply to an employer who primarily carries on the business of construction or to the workers employed by such an employer. O. Reg. 146/87, s. 3.

4.—(1) Every employer shall take all necessary measures and procedures by means of engineering controls, work practices and hygiene practices and facilities to ensure that the time-weighted average exposure of a worker to airborne ethylene oxide is reduced to the lowest practical level and in any case does not exceed one part of ethylene oxide per million parts of air by volume or 1.8 mg of ethylene oxide per m³ of air.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), an employer shall ensure that the exposure of a worker to ethylene oxide does not exceed a short-term exposure concentration, measured over fifteen minutes, of ten parts of ethylene oxide per million parts of air by volume or 18 mg of ethylene oxide per m³ of air.

(3) Subject to section 5, every employer shall comply with subsections (1) and (2) without requiring a worker to wear and use respiratory equipment.

(5) Every worker shall comply with the work practices and hygiene practices of the control program or the emergency program for the work place to which the program applies.

(6) On a prosecution for a failure to comply with subsection (1) or (2), it shall be a defence for an employer to prove that the employer has complied with subsection (1) or (2) and that a breach of subse-tion (1) or (2) occurred solely because a worker failed to work in compliance with the work practices and hygiene practices of the control program or the emergency program for the work place and the employer has taken every precaution reasonable in the circumstances to require the worker to do so. O. Reg. 146/87, s. 4.

5.—(1) Where the strict duty imposed by subsection 4 (1) or (2) cannot be complied with because,

- (a) an emergency exists; or
- (b) the measures and procedures necessary to control the exposure of a worker to airborne ethylene oxide,
 - (i) do not exist or are unavailable,
 - (ii) are not reasonable or practical for the length of time or frequency of exposure or the nature of the process, operation or work, or
 - (iii) are not effective because of a temporary breakdown of equipment, the employer shall provide a worker with respiratory equipment which shall be used by the worker.

(2) Where a worker is exposed to airborne ethylene oxide, the worker may request a respirator regardless of the level of exposure and the respirator shall be provided by the employer and used by the worker.

(3) Where respiratory equipment is provided by an employer and used by a worker, the respiratory equipment,

- (a) shall be appropriate in the circumstances for the concentration of airborne ethylene oxide;
- (b) shall meet or exceed the requirements set out in the Code for Respiratory Equipment for Ethylene Oxide dated the 28th day of February, 1986 and issued by the Ministry; and 6.—(1) Every employer to whom this Regulation applies shall cause an assessment to be made in writing of the exposure or likelihood of exposure in a work place of a worker to the inhalation, absorption or contact with ethylene oxide.

(2) In causing the assessment to be made, the employer shall consider and take into account such matters as,

- (a) the methods and procedures used or to be used in the production, processing, use, handling or storage of ethylene oxide;
- (b) the extent and potential extent of the exposure of a worker to the inhalation, absorption or contact with ethylene oxide; and
- (c) the measures and procedures necessary to control such exposure by means of engineering controls, work practices and hygiene practices and facilities.

(3) In causing the assessment to be made, the employer shall consult thereon with the joint health and safety committee and the committee may make recommendations with respect to the assessment.

(4) A copy of the assessment made by an employer shall be given by the employer to each member of the joint health and safety committee. O. Reg. 146/87, s. 6.

7.—(1) Except where section 8 applies, if an assessment discloses or would disclose, if made in conformity with section 6, that a worker is likely to inhale, absorb or come into contact with ethylene oxide and that the health of the worker may be affected thereby, the employer shall develop, establish, put into effect and maintain measures and procedures to control the exposure of workers to ethylene oxide and shall incorporate the same into an ethylene oxide control program.

9. Where a change is made in a process involving ethylene oxide or in the methods and procedures in the production, use, handling or storage of ethylene oxide and the change could result in a significant difference in the exposure of a worker to the inhalation, absorption or contact with ethylene oxide, the employer shall cause a further assessment to be made forthwith and the provisions of sections 6 and 7 or sections 6 and 8 apply to the further assessment. O. Reg. 146/87, s. 9.

- (a) posted forthwith by the employer, as soon as the results are available, in a conspicuous place or places at the work place where they are most likely to come to the attention of the workers affected thereby, and the employer shall keep the results posted for a period of at least fourteen days;
- (b) furnished to the joint health and safety committee; and
- (c) kept by the employer for a period of at least five years. O. Reg. 146/87, s. 13.

14.—(1) The record of exposure of a worker to airborne ethylene oxide at a work place required under a control program shall identify the worker, including the worker's date of birth, the worker's jobs or occupations at the work place, the results of monitoring for exposure to airborne ethylene oxide in the worker's work area and the use by the worker of respiratory equipment and its type.

Schedule

The time-weighted average exposure of a worker to airborne ethylene oxide shall be calculated for a forty hour week and an eight hour day as follows:

1. The average concentrations of ethylene oxide to which a worker is exposed shall be determined from analyses of air samples taken as being representative of the exposure of the worker to ethylene oxide during work operations as set out in the Code mentioned in section 12.
2. The results of the analyses are the concentrations of ethylene oxide expressed as parts ethylene oxide per million parts of air by volume or as mg ethylene oxide per m³ of air.

3. The concentrations shall be multiplied by the time in hours to which the worker is taken to be exposed to such concentrations.

4. The weekly exposure shall be calculated as follows:

 $C_1T_1 + C_2T_2 + \dots + C_nT_n$ = cumulative weekly exposure, where C_1 is the concentration found in an air sample and T_1 is the total time in hours to which the worker is taken to be exposed to concentration C_1 in a week.

5. The weekly time-weighted average exposure shall be calculated by dividing the cumulative weekly exposure by 40.
6. The daily exposure shall be calculated as follows:

 $C_1T_1 + C_2T_2 + \dots + C_nT_n$ = cumulative daily exposure, where C_1 is the concentration found in an air sample and T_1 is the total time in hours to which the worker is taken to be exposed to concentration C_1 in a day.

7. The daily time-weighted average exposure shall be calculated by dividing the cumulative daily exposure by 8. O. Reg. 146/87, Sched.

ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT

O. Reg. 148/87.

Exemption—Ministry of Transportation and Communications—MTC-56.

Made—March 12th, 1987.

Approved—March 12th, 1987.

Filed—March 25th, 1987.

ORDER MADE UNDER THE
ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACTEXEMPTION—MINISTRY OF TRANSPORTATION AND
COMMUNICATIONS—MTC-56

Having received a request from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications that an undertaking, namely:

The activity of the design, construction, operation and maintenance of Highway 403 from Highway 2/53 in Ancaster to the Highway 403 Bypass in Brantford be exempt from the application of the Act pursuant to section 29; and

Having been advised that if the undertaking is subject to the application of the Act, the following injury, damage or interference with the persons and property indicated will occur:

- A. The public will be interfered with by the resulting delays in construction which will lower already critical levels of service on Highway 2/53 between Ancaster and Brantford and may lead to higher accident rates, and increased inconvenience and delays for highway users and local residents.

Having weighed such injury, damage or interference against the betterment of the people of the whole of any part of Ontario by the protection, conservation and wise management in Ontario of the environment which would result from the undertaking being subject to the application of the Act;

The undersigned is of the opinion that it is in the public interest to order and orders that the undertaking is exempt from the application of the Act for the following reasons:

- A. The early completion of the undertaking will correct an unsafe traffic condition on Highway 2/53 between Ancaster and Brantford.
- B. The construction of the undertaking will remove a weak link in the existing Highway 403 corridor between Woodstock and Hamilton, and thereby improve safety and increase operational efficiencies.

C. Strong support for the early completion of the undertaking has been voiced by local municipalities, area residents and citizens' groups.

D. An Environmental Assessment for the planning of the undertaking prepared by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, was accepted by the Minister of the Environment on July 28, 1981. Following the public review period, the Notice of Acceptance for this document was issued indicating that a public hearing was not necessary. The undertaking was subsequently approved on September 10, 1981 by Order in Council No. O.C. 2635/81. A copy of this approval, together with the Environmental Assessment documents related to this undertaking, may be found in the public records maintained by the Environmental Assessment Branch of the Ministry of the Environment under section 31 of the Act. Following the receipt of this Approval, the alignment of the undertaking was designated and property along portions of the undertaking was purchased.

E. An active public participation program formed an essential part of the planning for this undertaking.

F. The protection, conservation and wise management of the environment has been provided for by the Environmental Assessment previously approved and will be further provided for by the detailed environmental design and construction techniques employed by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications as part of its policy.

G. The government is committed to implementing this undertaking in accordance with an accelerated schedule that does not allow sufficient time to comply with the Act.

This exemption is subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. An environmental assessment study will be carried out by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications documenting the environmental effects and mitigation measures associated with the undertaking. In the early stages of this activity, the Ministry shall consult with external ministries and agencies, and members of the public.
2. The Ministry of Transportation and Communications will comply with all conditions of approval set out in Order in Council No. O.C. 2635/81.
3. At least thirty days prior to the commencement of construction, the Ministry of Transportation and Communications shall submit a copy of an Environmental Status Statement based on the environmental assessment study prepared under condition 1 covering the design, construction, operation and maintenance of the undertaking, for information purposes, to the Environmental Assessment Branch of the Ministry of the Environment for inclusion in the Public Record.

4. The undertaking shall be constructed in accordance with the Environmental Assessment previously approved and in accordance with the Environmental Status Statement filed under condition 3.
5. The Ministry of Transportation and Communications, shall notify all Provincial Ministries and agencies, municipalities and individuals that were previously involved in the planning of this undertaking, of this order and a schedule of those notified will be filed at least thirty days prior to the commencement of construction with the Environmental Assessment Branch of the Ministry of the Environment for inclusion in the Public Record.
6. Where any activity which otherwise would be exempt under this order, is being carried out as or is part of, an undertaking for which an environmental assessment has been accepted and approval to proceed received, the activity shall be carried out in accordance with any terms or conditions in the approval to proceed as well as the conditions of this order.
7. Where any activity which is the subject of this order, is being carried out as or is part of, another undertaking which is the subject of an exemption order under the Act, the activity exempt under this order shall be carried out in accordance with any terms or conditions in the other exemption order as well as the conditions in this order.
8. Notwithstanding conditions 2, 4, 6 and 7 no requirement referred to therein which requires the preparation of a further environmental assessment and the obtaining of an approval under section 14 of the Act prior to the construction, operation and maintenance of the highway applies.
9. No construction shall be carried out pursuant to this exemption order unless construction has commenced prior to the expiry of five years from the date of approval of this order. O. Reg. 148/87.

1. In this Regulation,

“Corporation” means the Ontario Share and Deposit Insurance Corporation;

“deposit” includes any deposit whether or not insured or required to be insured by the Ontario Share and Deposit Insurance Corporation;

“share capital” includes any share capital whether or not insured or required to be insured by the Corporation. O. Reg. 150/87, s. 1.

2. The following are prescribed as the terms under which the Corporation shall establish an annual premium for a credit union:

1. The annual premium shall be calculated at the rate of $1.40 per $1,000 of combined share capital and deposits of the credit union.

2. The Corporation, not later than ninety days after the start of a calendar year, shall determine the amount of combined share capital and deposits of the credit union based on:

i. the audited financial statements of the credit union if its fiscal year ends between the 30th day of June and the 1st day of October in the preceding calendar year and if by the 30th day

November in that year it filed, with the Corporation, the statements together with a written request to base the determination on the statements,

- ii. the quarterly statistical return of the credit union for any quarter ending between the 30th day of June and the 1st day of October in the preceding calendar year if,

- iv. an estimate by the Corporation, if the criteria in subparagraphs i, ii and iii have not been met.

3. Where the annual premium for a credit union is established on the basis of an estimate and the Corporation has underestimated the premium, upon receipt of an audited financial statement, quarterly statistical return or a statement of share capital and deposits for a period described in subparagraph i, ii or iii of paragraph 2, as may be appropriate, that, except for the date of filing, otherwise satisfies the requirements of the relevant subparagraph, the Corporation shall adjust the premium to reflect the amount that would have been payable had the relevant document been available at the time the estimate was made.

4. If the annual premium for a credit union, when calculated in accordance with paragraphs 1, 2 and 3, would be less than $100, the Corporation shall establish the premium for the credit union at $100.
5. Where a credit union carries on business for less than the full year in respect of which an annual premium is established, its annual premium for that year shall be reduced by an amount proportionate to the period in which it did not carry on business.
